“ Harvey always had big plans and wanted to find a special lady to share his life with. Harvey loved his children Madison 10, Wyatt 9 and his son that past away Brandon with everything thing in his heart he spoke the world of them. Let his memory be the times shared together. Mine is playing together a children and convincing him and our other brothers Steven and Robert that the ninja turtle really lived in the sewer near our home. We played in the snow together build snow men and had snow ball fights. Harvey loved his shoes and took care of them like gold. His Handwriting was Beautiful more than any, an artist truly a fun loving soul like no other. The one who always would stick up for me even as a child. I want anyone who reads this to remember his smile and know they are blessed to have met him. I love you little brother we will meet again someday. Beloved Son, Brother, Father, and Friend
