

Lora Ann Athey

June 26, 1971 - July 12, 2012

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

AJ

“Lori was a sensitive, smart, funny and good person. Her friends loved her. She made people laugh. She had struggles and she was determined to persevere and do her best. She cried on Kleenex commercials. She loved music. She enjoyed being outside. She was a wife and a mother of three children. She has a family and they miss her. She is not forgotten. She lives on in spirit and in the hearts of those who knew and loved her. Most of all we will see her again.

Amanda Jones - June 20, 2016 at 06:08 PM

JR

“I miss Lori so much and I'm surprised that nobody else has written in this..I guess nobody knew about it.Lori was and still is a huge part of our family.Her absence is felt and we just want justice for her now...

Julia Reynolds - May 13, 2016 at 02:40 PM