“ Hey Mikey Mike! Its your cousin Darla aka Darlita. You called me that all the time. When I was told of you passing away, I didn't want to believe it. I know you are no longer in pain and you have a new body. I can only imagine how you felt when you walked through the gates of Heaven, and standing there to greet you was Jesus and all our family. That had to be one of the greatest feelings ever! I'm going to miss you so much. I love you! This is not goodbye, its I will see you again.

“ My sweet cousin. I love you so very much. You had a heart as big as Texas and a personality to match it. You are missed by us all. I wish I could've seen you one more time. I still have a text that you sent me a few days before you passed. I'll cherish it forever. I love you...tell my daddy hello for me.

“ I miss you so much. Sometimes I feel that you are still by my side.And then it hits so hard that I am all alone. I am still having a hard time sleeping without you, I have no need or want for food. When do I stop calling our name as if you will answer me? I just got it this cruel joke called life. With you I had a future and without you life has no meaning. I miss you so much

“ One time Michael and I was tired of staying in our little apartment. That we rented a car and took a ride listening to music and the Windows down. He had his feet on the dash board playing air guitar and Michael had the biggest smile on his face. He was at peace he didn't need his oxygen. I wanted to take him to a mountain. it was early morning late night. So there was little options. So we were by south mountain park. Started to head up the mountain and there was a gate closing off the park. I was mad as I was turning around and heading back down. I was driving mad and all of the sudden I slammed on the breaks . He yelled the *#$% are trying to kill us. In I answered no but I also don't want to kill him either He looked up and saw a little white mouse running as fast as his little legs could go. Every time I did selfless act he would say an other white mouse huh huh that is my girl thinks with her heart not her head. But would do the same thing I have done. He loved helping others in need or just for the sake of helping. I will always Love Michael I Will never never forget him. I miss him so much that it tells like my heart has been pulled apart because it was. I am still very much in mourning. It's so unfair that someone that I loved so much is alread
